AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT.

OLYMPIC—"Little Lord Fauntleroy."
Fors—"East Lynne."
MATINEES TO-MORROW.
OLYMPIC—"Little Lord Fauntleroy."
Fors—"East Lynne."

The indications for twenty-four hours, commencing at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri are: Threatening weather and rain; colder; variable winds, with severe local storms.

Not long ago an alleged Plumed Knight one JAMES G. BLAINE, was appointed Secretary of State—what has become of him?

Most of the lightning that kills nowadays travels along an overhead wire. The death-dealing current should be run under ground.

The Federal Grand-jury are enjoying the fun of dropping election fraud indictments in the slot and seeing Republican officials disappear.

New York City wants a monument for another one of her distinguished dead, and is about to call on the country to give her the money for a Greeley monument.

The Post-Dispatch Forest Park Mission has been organized on a good working basis. All that is needed now is the help of charitable people. There should be no lack of liberal aid for such a worthy cause.

The Interstate Commission has decided that a negro holding a first-class ticket cannot be excluded from a first-class car unless the railroad has provided for him another first-class car "equally as good." But no tribunal has yet decided that President Harrison must, in dividing first-class offices, give the colored Republicans "something equally as good" as the white Republicans get.

It is generally agreed among muck-wump papers whose judgment may be accepted as impartial that the Civil Service Commission as at present constituted is the best that has been appointed. But what harm can a first-class Civil Service Commission do under a President knocking down all the offices with a suspending order. It is only a nice little addition to the letter of acceptance and other ornamental knick-knacks of the administration.

It is gratifying to note that there is a disposition on the part of the German authorities to listen to the complaints of the 300,000 German miners who are striking. The Emperor has received a delegation of strikers, and the Prussian Ministry incline to a settlement of the difficulty through arbitration. It looked at first as if volleys of musketry would be the only answer accorded to the demands of the miners and this is the worst kind of answer.

A MEMBERSHIP of the Utah Commission with $5,000 a year and nothing to do but get in on the velvet side of speculation in far Western mining, real estate and railroad enterprises, has been given to Russell Harrison's father-in-law, ALVIN SANDERS of Nebraska. There is fine pasture for the Harrison family connections under this administration, and the head thereof will not be to blame if the family fortunes are not greatly exalted in the next four years.

Will the German Republicans follow QUAY and the Cabinet in the work of switching the whole Republican train to the "Prohibition track, coupling State after State to Kansas, Iowa and Maine? Perhaps they will when they realize as BLAINE, WINDOM, PROCTOR, WANAMAKER, and INGALLS and PLUMB do, that the German Republicans are the worst kind of answer.

for the sake of curtailing the poor man's beer drinking with legal obstructions.

QUAY's declaration that he will vote with WANAMAKER for Prohibition in Pennsylvania officially commits the Republican party of the Keystone State to that side of the liquor question. With the Chairman of the Republican National Committee and a majority of the Cabinet open advocates and engineers of the Prohibition cause, the Kansas, Iowa and Maine variety of Republicanism is in a fair way to absorb and assimilate the whole party, as AARON's rod swallowed all the others in the contest for the high priesthood.

DAVID L. GITT, a Missouri Republican, who had served fifteen years in the Pension Bureau and risen to the position of assistant chief clerk, was left in office by Mr. CLEVELAND because no fault could be found with his official record or personal character. But under GITT in a $1,200 clerkship served the aged father-in-law of our present President, and now GITT is removed because the old man was nearly always falling asleep at his desk, and GITT's way of waking him up by crying out, "Baltimore, change cars!" has given offense to the family in the White House.

On the first hint of inefficiency, lukewarmness or partiality in the prosecution of St. Louis election frauds, Mr. CLEVELAND ordered the employment of a distinguished Republican lawyer to assist the Democratic District Attorney in enforcing the election laws. Mr. HARRISON may give a similar evidence of good faith if District Attorney REYNOLDS should show a suspicious inefficiency. But with the Indianapolis precedent before our eyes we are forced to conclude that public sentiment may demand effective and impartial prosecution of election frauds a long time before getting it.

In his message vetoing the New York electoral reform bill, Gov. HILL says he would approve the secret voting compartment provision and assent to the provision for official ballots if the bill allowed private ballots also, and permitted the voter to choose either. That is to say, Gov. HILL does not object to the secret voting compartments if they are so provided for as not to interfere with the power of the bosses to put private ballots in the hands of dependent or bribed voters, and to see that they do not exchange them for any other before going into the secret compartments.

The pastor of the New York church supported by GOULD and SAGE asserts that their generation of Americans is a nobler and better one than that which produced WASHINGTON, JEFFERSON and FRANKLIN. His proposition is that under the power and guidance of God the world has been continually growing better, and that to deny it is to accuse God and impeach Christianity as a failure. By the same process of reasoning he might easily convince himself that the Roman character was nobler and better in the most debauched reign of the Caesars than in the days of CINCINNATUS, and that the modern Christian pastor is a great improvement on the average of the original apostles.

The New York WORLD asks this very pertinent question of those who are urging the election of CALVIN S. BRICE as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee: "Can the Democratic party—'the supposed foe of monopolies and trusts'—rising plutocracy—hope to make a successful fight under the field marshalship 'of a millionaire railway magnate'?" It is a little queer that the loud outcry against GORMAN proved to be a preface in most cases to a loud cry for the election of GORMAN's candidate BRICE. Boss PLATT is also for BRICE. They managed that New York campaign between them—PLATT for the Republicans, BRICE for the Democrats—and when HARRISON carried New York one of the first recipients of Executive favor was the express company of which PLATT is President and BRICE a large stockholder.

Not content with CLARKSON and BLAINE and PROCTOR as representatives of the Republican party from States in which it has identified itself with Prohibition, the President chose WINDOM, the Prohibitionist, to represent in the Cabinet a State that had repudiated Prohibition and WINDOM also. To still more fully identify the administration with the Prohibition wing of the party and to aid the effort to commit the Pennsylvania Republicans to Prohibition, WANAMAKER was given the only Cabinet position awarded to the great State of Pennsylvania. An appointment insuring $4,000 a year and traveling expenses has just been given to Rev. Dr. DORCHESTER for editing a column in the Boston Journal rallying the Republicans to the support of Prohibition in the recent Massachusetts fight. This is how Mr. HARRISON is reimbursing the German vote, without the support of which he would have been beaten.

In his effort to show that wealth and watered stocks have not made us any worse than our fathers of the Revolution were, Mr. GOVERNOR MORRIS casts some very unjust aspersions upon the generation of Americans who achieved our independence, molded and adopted our Constitution and made WASHINGTON our first President. He has dug up and repeated all the unjust suspicions and accusations with which they attacked each other in their political contests, a kind of evidence which every just mind will instinctively political antagonists were just such partisan exaggerations as the remarks they made about MORRIS and JAY. What they suffered and what they accomplished should be a sufficient answer to all the campaign lies they believed about one another.

It seems that in the first two months of his renewed connection with the postal department TYRER has nipped in the bud a petty revival of the star-route frauds that attained such immense proportions during his former connection with postal affairs. The small fry of contractors who regarded the election of HARRISON and the appointment of TYRER as a signal for a resumption of star-route swindling operations have been brought up with a round turn. It is to be hoped that bigger ones with stronger pulls will fare no better, and that TYRER under HARRISON will redeem the rather bad record he made under former Republican Administrations.

The Smoke Problem Solved.

From the Chicago Tribune.
Saturday a Tribune reporter made a round trip of twenty-two miles on one of the sub car engines of the Wisconsin Central which had been provided with a new smoke-brake, the invention of a Chicagoan. The trial was a satisfactory one. The principle of the device is sound. It is the introduction over the fire-box of a jet of superheated steam, which should have a temperature of over 800 degrees. The oxygen in this steam seeks its natural abode in the carbon of the coal and causes it to burn at an intense white heat, so that it passes away as carbonic acid and not as carbonaceous smoke. The hydrogen liberated from the oxygen of the water combines with whatever loose oxygen of the air it can find, and also burns at a white heat. These causes to be any smoke, for the carbon is all consumed. Where one of these suburban engines used to burn from four to five tons of coal a day, it now consumes from two and a half to three, and gives better work with the smaller than it did with the larger quantity. When it is proven that there is this great saving other roads will follow the example of the Wisconsin Central. They cannot afford to neglect such a manifest economy.

Monopolies and the Democratic Committee.

From the New York World.
Mr. Brice, as Chairman of the Executive Committee, last year spent $200,000 out of his own purse in making up the deficit of the campaign, and the only compensation he has is the knowledge that he is very generally blamed for the defeat of the party. The Chairman of the National Committee is a most important political office. Upon the capacity of the man who holds this office depends the success or failure of the party. No man ought to be intrusted with such high and responsible duties unless thoroughly qualified. Mr. Brice is bright, capable and energetic in his legitimate business, but he has absolutely no capacity for political leadership. The most serious objection to Mr. Brice is the fact that he is identified with big railroad corporations. No man should be at the head of the Democratic National Committee who is associated with corporate monopolies and who is not in complete accord with all the great principles of the party.

She never had but twenty minutes instruction in printing, and that after she was 50 years of age, and none in proof-reading."

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

It is the Same in St. Louis.

To the Editor of the World:

In no city in the wide world can so much waste paper be found in the streets as in New York. We have printed and issued here every day no less than a million and a half of newspapers, and this accounts for much of the untidy debris lying about the streets, but anybody who will take the trouble will find our streets littered with paper bags, hand-bills, wrappers of every description and store sweepings without end. Paper is cheap here, and the people are careless about the untidy debris lying about the streets, but anybody who will take the trouble will find our streets littered with paper bags, hand-bills, wrappers of every description and store sweepings without end.
